

Part II: Perpendicular bisectors of Line Segments

1. What does it mean to "bisect" something?
2. You can use circles to find the midpoint of the line segment. Use your compass to find the midpoint of the line segment below.

Bisect all of the line segments below using a compass

Construct a square on each of the line segments below, so that the segment is one of the sides of the square you construct.

